

Accurate Products Co. Changes its Name to Evaero, Inc.

TUCSON, Arizona, January 1, 2010 (FPRC) -- Not only are the year and the decade changing. Our name is changing too. From this point on, Accurate Products Co. is now Evaero, Inc.

The name Evaero reflects the evolution of our industry. As the aerospace industry evolves, our constant challenge is to evolve with it. To that end, we are deep in the development of a new, more efficient operating system that will prepare us for the demands of the future. More to come on that.

Beyond systems and names and even machine, though, it's people that make our company soar. People with ideas. People with pride in their work. People who do the right thing. Let me tell you, that will never change and we're making substantial investments in our greatest resource so that they are prepared for the demands of the future.

All of us at Evaero wish you a happy new year and an exciting future. Evaero Inc. (www.evaero.com), an ISO/AS registered company, has served the aerospace industry for nearly 30 years with high-precision machined components and assemblies.
